

Choose the firm that's right for you.

- 1. Honesty. When meeting with an attorney, you should expect a candid discussion and have your questions answered to your satisfaction. Spend some time talking about the attorney's approach. Ask if there is a consultation fee and don't be afraid to discuss billing options up front. ChamberlainD'Amanda will answer all of your questions, including those about cost and our approach.
- 2. Expertise. Your past experience with one attorney may lead you to consider that attorney for a new matter that may be outside of his or her expertise. Before retaining counsel, make sure you are getting the qualifications and expertise you need—either from your attorney or another member of the firm. ChamberlainD'Amanda's 360° Team Approach provides you with comprehensive expertise for virtually any matter.
- 3. Reputation. There are all kinds of ways to look into a firm's reputation. Martindale-Hubbell®, Lawyers.comSM, judges, other attorneys, the local bar association, and past and current clients are all good sources of opinion on a firm and its attorneys. You'll find that ChamberlainD'Amanda's 125-year history is one of the utmost integrity and that our attorneys are highly regarded by their peers and clients.
- 4. Response. When it comes to the team behind your attorney, it is important to think of what value they offer you. Rather than looking for small, medium, or large, look for a firm that's the "right size" to respond to your needs. That means going with the firm that can get the right results for you. At ChamberlainD'Amanda, we are the right size to handle simple or complex matters, with an infrastructure that is built around meeting your needs.
- 5. Perspective. Successful legal solutions rely on big-picture analysis. A good attorney will look at your matters from different perspectives to ensure that the answer to today's challenge doesn't become tomorrow's problem. ChamberlainD'Amanda's 360° Team Approach looks at your situation from every angle to give you practical advice and reliable solutions.
- 6. Results. When selecting an attorney, results matter most. Tenacity and a successful track record in getting results for clients are essential attributes in a good attorney. ChamberlainD'Amanda's commitment to doing what's right for you means that we will always seek the best results for you.
